Mob Threatens Violence In Leopold, Loeb Case

NOTE WARNS OF PLAN TO HANG BOYS

Death Marked Letter Found
Near Home of Dickie

TESTIMONY NEARING END

Last Witness to be Heard is on Stand

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Police are seeking the origin of a letter urging the hanging of Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks, found last night on the steps of the home of a wealthy neighbor of Loeb, weighted down with a human leg bone, resting between crossed arm bones with a skull above. The bones were those of a woman, police said, and bore small metallic tags, causing the belief that they came from some medical school.

The letter read "If the court don't hang them, we will," and was signed "K. K. K."

Because a police guard has been maintained at the Loeb home since the youth's arrest, the officers believe the letter was left at the nearby residence.

CROWD DRAWN

Expectation of oratory by attorneys was a magnet that drew a crowd of thousands to the usual court, under the pouring rain. The downpour served however, to reduce to a bare bones the unprivileged crowd who usually stand about the entrance of the building to watch the arrivals of the relatives of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, co-murderers of Robert Franks.

The skies were so thickly overcast that all lights were turned on in the court room when Dr. William O. Krohn, chief witness for the state, resumed the stand for further cross-examination by Benjamin Bachrach, for the defense.

Charles S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, was ready to take his place at Bachrach's shoulder where yesterday he whispered coaching advice to his associate.

Word came from the state's attorney's office that Dr. Krohn was the last witness for the prosecution. The defense said unless something unforeseen developed no rebuttal testimony would be offered.

Thomas Marshall, legal expert for Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, was in court ready to start the closing argument for the prosecution when Dr. Krohn's cross-examination was finished.

Crowe addressed Judge John R. Carter in explanation of his remarks of yesterday when he said that long as he was state's attorney he would question suspects "even in violation of constitutional rights."

"In the heat of argument," said Crowe, "I probably made an unfortunate selection of words."

"We have at no time violated any of the constitutional rights of these defendants. In other words, the state's attorney will never violate any of any one's constitutional rights knowingly or willfully."

Crowe obtained a ruling striking out all mention of "insanity" in the cross-examination of Dr. William Krohn, defense witness. This was agreed to by the defense.

Bachrach took up the thread of his cross-examination by Dr. Krohn.

TEXAS G. O. P. WITHOUT CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The Republican party of Texas today was out on an official campaign for Governor following the election of its nominee, Thomas P. G. Houston, in issuing a statement yesterday reiterating its refusal to be a candidate.

The statement, addressed to the Republicans of Texas, thanked them for the honor of nominating him for Governor, declared that he did not seek the nomination since he felt there were other good men in our state who could better represent the party interest in this capacity, and that he was not going to waste his time in making public statements that would make his name a household word.

BRIDE QUIZZED

Murderess' row in the Cook-co jail at Chicago has a new tenant. She is Pearl Freiskop Gunther, pretty dancing teacher, and a bride of but three days, who is being held while police investigate the murder of her husband, Raymond Gunther, shot to death near Cicero, Ill. Mrs. Gunther says her husband killed himself because he could not finance a home.

DUSTIN FARNUM WINS DIVORCE

Wife Balked at Going West,
Screen Star Charges

RENO, Nevada — (By Associated Press) — Charging desertion, Dustin Farnum, screen star, was granted a decree of divorce in the district court here yesterday from Mary Elizabeth Farnum, to whom he was married in November, 1904, at Chicago.

Mrs. Farnum did not contest the decree except to answer the complaint and make a general denial of the charges. The Farnums have been separated 12 years, the actor testified. At the time of the separation he saw the future of the motion picture industry, he said, and when he received an offer to leave the legitimate stage and enter the movies he left immediately for Los Angeles. Mrs. Farnum, he said, refused to accompany him and told him she would live nowhere but in New York city.

"Did you use every reasonable persuasion to have your wife join you in Los Angeles?" the actor was asked.

"Yes—as far as my dignity would permit," Farnum answered. Farnum said that he and his wife had been estranged for several years prior to their separation. A property settlement was made prior to the filing of the divorce complaint.

STOP ORDINANCE ENFORCED

Concentrated Campaign to Get
Motorists Into Court

Police began the actual enforcing of the boulevard stop ordinance Tuesday when 20 extra policemen were on duty throughout the city.

One patrolman who reported at the station shortly after noon had obtained the license numbers of more than 20 motorists who had violated the provisions of the recently enacted ordinance.

Other officers are believed to have taken the names of other motorists and one of the largest courts of recent months is predicted for Wednesday.

LEGION AUXILIARY OFFICERS ELECTED

ZANESVILLE—Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Steubenville, was elected president of the auxiliary of the American Legion of Ohio at the annual meeting of the organization here today. Other auxiliary officers chosen were:

Mrs. Harry Johnson, Cleveland, first vice president; Mrs. E. E. Moore, Newark, second vice president; Mrs. R. J. Jackson, Nelsonville, treasurer.

Mrs. Walter, Toledo, and William F. Foulkes, East Liverpool, seem to be leading contenders for commander of the legion itself.

KID MCGOY'S MIND SNAPS, POLICE SAY

Accused Slayer Declared
Cracking Under Strain

"MAKES TRAP FOR RAT"

Explanation for Pasting Card-board on Walls

LOS ANGELES — (By Associated Press) — Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, held on suspicion of murder in connection with the death last Tuesday night of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, became mentally unbalanced in his cell here today, according to a police announcement. Alienists yesterday declared McCoy sane.

Captain of Detectives Kline declared his belief that the former prize ring idol was not acting but was "cracking" under the strain. A special guard was detailed to McCoy's cell to prevent him from doing himself any injury.

Mumbling and pacing nervously about his narrow quarters the former fighter stopped every few moments to past bits of cardboard on the walls. When asked what he was doing, he answered, "I'm making a trap for that rat Mors."

When informed of McCoy's actions District Attorney Asa Keyes said the three mental experts who yesterday asserted that the prisoner was sound in mind, would be sent back immediately to further observe him.

Meanwhile the district attorney went forward with his preparations to take the case before the county grand jury. He reiterated his belief that McCoy would be indicted for the murder of Mrs. Mors and declared it his conviction that McCoy was not insane the night of the shooting, but merely drunk.

Three witnesses were subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury today.

Among them was Albert A. Mors, former husband of the dead woman and until their recent divorce, her partner in the antique business; Mrs. Iva Martin, occupant of the apartment below that in which the shooting occurred; and she said Mrs. Mors leaving the building immediately after the fatal shot was fired.

Several detectives who insist she much has been mistaken; William G. Ross, who was wounded in an attempt to escape from the Mors antique shop after Kid McCoy entered it Wednesday morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schapp, the other two victims of the shopping district shooting affair.

Who say McCoy sought them out and shot them because they encouraged a reconciliation between Mr. and Mrs. Mors.

Out of the testimony of these and other witnesses, District Attorney Asa Keyes confidently predicts will develop an indictment charging McCoy with the murder of Mrs. Mors.

ERIE DIRECTORS ACT ON NICKEL PLATE MERGER

Merger of the Erie railroad with the Nickel Plate moved a step nearer with the official action of the directors of the company in receiving the offer made by the Van Sweringen, it was announced Tuesday.

The offer of the Cleveland magnates was received by the directors at their regular meeting in New York Monday afternoon and was referred by them to the executive committee.

Should it be decided that the offer is a fair one the stockholders will be asked to pass on the matter at a meeting in the near future and if enough shareholders favor the merger the officials will take the necessary steps to bring it about.

Under the plan outlined the stockholders will turn in their Erie stock and receive Nickel Plate stock in return. Proportions, which are said to be fair, have already been set.

Should the merger be approved the new system will have the second shortest route to New York City from Chicago, it was pointed out in the Monday Lima News.

Prince Is Heavy Loser At Races And Game Table

Philadelphia Man Prospers At Expense of the British Heir

DEUVILLE, France — (By United Press) — Fortune turned its back on the Prince of Wales here, and today he is more than 100,000 francs poorer as a result of a Sunday at the races and baccarat tables.

Jules Mastbaum of Philadelphia, is said to have prospered thru the prince's heavy losses at the table.

In the afternoon the prince was among the early attendants at the racing course and plastered a bet on each race. None of his selections showed at the finish. Shortly after 5:30 p. m. the prince strolled into the gaming room. Dressed in a gray suit, somewhat the worse for travel, he placed a bet of 10,000 francs. He took the loss good-naturedly and started playing steadily. He was said to be almost 100,000 francs ahead of the game, but his luck skidded and he started losing while Mastbaum won.

The prince was whisked away to Le Touquet.

No record was made of the winnings of Mastbaum although he was said to have won most of the bets which the prince lost.

2 BADEN TOWNS EVACUATED

Trench Troops Are Withdrawn from Germany

PARIS — (By Associated Press) — Evacuation begun yesterday morning by French troops, of the Baden towns of Offenburg and Appenweiler, was completed last night without incident, the French department announced today.

The two squadrons of the Eighth Hussars from Strasbourg and a company of the 170th Infantry from Kehl, which formed the entire occupying force, numbering something less than 200 men, have rejoined their barracks and the two towns on the east bank of the Rhine across from Strasbourg have left but a single one of the foreign soldiers who entered their limits February 4, 1923, when the occupation was ordered as a penalty for the suspension of service on German sections of two international railway routes.

The French cabinet today unanimously approved the work of the French delegation at the international conference in London and thanked it for the important results it had attained in the interests of France.

The cabinet met this morning and after having listened attentively to a report by Premier Herriot on the proceedings and results of the conference, gave its unqualified approval of the accord which had been concluded at the lengthy meeting at the British capital.

It was decided that the premier should read his declaration before the senate and chamber on Thursday, giving a complete report of the work of the London conference for both bodies of the French legislature.

FIANCE BADLY INJURED WHILE DRIVING TO CITY FOR WEDDING CEREMONY

CINCINNATI—Mrs. Carrie E. Flynn of this city, returned to her home last night from Crawfordville, where the automobile in which she was driving with her fiancé, Joseph Clark, toward Cincinnati, Ind., where they were to have been married today, ran over a ten-foot embankment, probably fatally injuring Clark. Mrs. Flynn was unhurt.

By coincidence the place where the accident occurred was within 100 yards of where Mrs. Flynn's first husband was killed in a train wreck four years ago.

On a grade just outside the limits of Crawfordville and near the railroad crossing where her husband was killed, Mrs. Flynn's fiancé lost control of the automobile and in the resulting crash he received internal injuries from which he is reported to be dying.

AGED MAN IS ROBBED OF MONEY

Savings of Summer Stolen by Automobile Bandits

LONG WINTER IS FACED

Life Threatened as Thieves
Search Wagon for Wealth

Charles Smith, 70, noted old-time horse-wrangler and stock man, who during the last score of years has been supporting himself by driving a fruit wagon thru the country, today is almost destitute.

Charlie, whose only assets in the world are $35 in cash, a spring wagon and a team of aged horses, was returning to Lima to spend the winter at the Provo livery barn, on N. Central-av, when he met with two highwaymen early Tuesday morning, and was robbed of $140 cash.

Two men driving a Ford truck, who are thought to be members of a band of chicken thieves working in this vicinity, awakened the aged stockman who was camped in the rear of a school house, seven miles northwest of Lima on the Dixie highway and threatened his life if he uttered a sound.

LIFE MENACED

One of the marauders held a wrench over his head while the other searched the wagon for the "hidden roll" which Charlie was known to carry with him at all times.

They found $140 hidden in a small wooden compartment under the seat of the wagon, but missed $35 which was hidden under the hay in the wagon bed. The robbery occurred about 1 a. m.

Charlie reached Lima about noon Tuesday and reported the theft to police, who are convinced that the robbery was the work of chicken thieves.

Smith told police that the truck was loaded with birds which, several hours before, had probably roosted in some farmer's hen house. The truck had passed him late in the afternoon and was empty at that time, he said.

Unless the thieves are located, Charlie's plight will be a sad one. Too old to turn to hard labor, he is without sufficient funds to keep him thru the winter.

And in case he should survive the cold weather, he will be without money with which to replenish his stock of fruits next summer.

ANTIQUES WILL BE PLACED

Historical Society Ready to Enlarge Display

New shipments of relic collections and antiques will be received this week and placed in the room in Memorial hall left vacant by the moving of C. A. Gresham's superintendent of county schools to the court house. Mrs. Ella Pillars, secretary of the Allen-to-Historical society, said Tuesday.

Arganbright's office was located in the south half of the southeast room on the second floor and the room is being cleaned and washed this week preparatory to placing the antiques there for display purposes.

As soon as Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, moves his office from the other half of the room, that part also will be taken over by the society. Sutter will probably get quarters in the court house when room can be made for him there.

The society plans to fill both the southeast and the southwest rooms on the second floor with antiques and then place other relic collections in glass cases in the corridor between the two rooms.

2 MEN KILLED, CROPS DESTROYED IN STORMS

4 Middle West States Hit by Cyclones, Cloudbursts

LOSS PLACED AT MILLIONS

Many Cities Flooded; Persons
Rescued by Boat

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — At least two men were killed and property damage running into millions of dollars was caused early today by cloudbursts and cyclones which swept four middle-western states.

J. N. Schley, 32, and Claude Barrett, 19, were killed by flood waters near Cedar Rapids, Ia., where the storm struck hardest. Schley and Barrett, both farmers, were drowned when they attempted to rescue a herd of cattle.

In addition to other Iowa cities, portions of Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska were hit by wind, hail and electrical storms.

Thousands of acres of farm land throughout Iowa were covered with water. Growing crops were being blown down and in many places completely destroyed.

In the cities trees and telegraph poles were blown down, automobiles washed down main thoroughfares and buildings damaged by the wind and hail.

Telephone and telegraph communication was derelictized thru-out the area. Railroad schedules were virtually abandoned, trains running where possible to avoid washouts.

CATTLE DROWNED

CHICAGO, Ia. — (By United Press) — Two farmers, J. N. Schley and Claude Barrett, were drowned with 35 head of cattle they tried to save during a severe rain and hail storm which struck Cedar Rapids and surrounding country last night and early today.

Streets in the residential district today were raging rivers. The water in many places was six feet deep. Rowboats were employed to rescue automobile passengers caught in the torrent.

All railroads in central Iowa are at a standstill. The Rock Island north and south is washed out. The Northwestern and Milwaukee report many miles of track torn out and bridges washed away.

MILWAUKEE — Thousands of dollars damage was caused here early today by a wind-storm of cyclonic proportions. Traffic was held up by debris which filled the streets. Trees were uprooted and telegraph poles blown down. Rain and hail accompanied the winds.

BERTRAM, Ia. — The Chicago and Northwestern Railroad was completely blocked near here today by bridge washouts along the right of way.

CLINTON, Ia. — Clinton's streets were flooded and traffic held up today as a result of heavy rainstorms during the night and early today. Several small streams flowing into the Mississippi river near here were out of their banks.

ST. CINCINNATI — Claiming treatment received while serving sentence on a speeding charge in the Warrenville workhouse caused him to contract influenza, Elvie Thomas filed suit for $10,000 against city of Cleveland.

CITY WILL STAND PART OF EXPENSE

Portion Between Kibby-st and
B. & O. Railroad Involved

CRIPPLE TO BE EJECTED

Ralph Williams Given Final
Eviction Order

South Main-st between Kibby-st and the B. & O. railroad will be repaved, the city paying half the cost of the proposed improvement. It was decided by members of the city commission at their regular meeting Monday night.

Attempts have been made by interested property owners to get the necessary frontage to have the street repaved at the expense of the property owners but they have failed and if anything is to be done the city will have to help, commissioners were informed.

City Manager C. A. Bingham, in a communication to the commission, pointed out that as four street railway companies in order that their tracks can be taken up and relaid by the time the paving work is expected to commence, it would be well to take immediate action.

This the commission did and at the same time authorized the city solicitor to draw up the necessary legislation to enable the street to be paved, the city paying one-half of the cost.

Work will probably be started early in the Spring and with the completion of the pavement a splendid thoroughfare from the Pennsylvania tracks to the Garfield and out the Dixie highway will be opened up.

STAND OUTED

Ralph Williams' news stand proprietor located in a small building at the corner of Main and High-sts, was given five days' notice to remove the building and the state commission from the Pennsylvania tracks to the Garfield and out the Dixie highway will be opened up.

If Williams has not removed his stand at the end of the five day period the police or some other branch of the city will remove the building from the street, probably to the city dump, it was said in the discussion.

Under contract with Williams he was to have the right to stay in the sidewalk in front of the American Bank-bldg until such time as the owners of the building should ask his removal. City Manager Bingham reported that Williams had refused to move now that the owners have asked him to leave.

Williams, who is a cripple and said to be dependent on the stand for his livelihood, has been notified several times but, according to officials has refused to leave. If he does not leave now his stand will be forcibly ejected from its present location.

An amendment will probably be proposed to the charter which would prohibit any person leaving the city with the consent of the commission to attend schools or conventions that will increase their knowledge and usefulness. This will have their expenses paid.

CODE CHANGE

Former Mayor Cunningham spoke briefly in favor of such an amendment and other commissioners agreed to take it over.

Commissioner Paul Landis will advise the commissioners on his return to the city.

Pettition for the paving of High-st from the D. C. & L. railroad to Dever was turned by the commission to the city engineer. The paving is to include Dever, a street between High and the D. C. & L. railroad.

A motion picture of the city's progress in the past year was shown at the city hall. A portion of the picture was shown to the commissioners.

Approval of the ordinance granting permission to narrow streets from 24 ft. to 20 ft. was given by the commission.

Purchasers of waterman supplies and road oil to the amount of $5,000 were authorized by the commission. Purchases will be made by the city's purchasing agent, Major Frank Hume.

Funeral notice for A. W. Roberts, commanding a 10th Ward team, was ordered by the city.

WOMAN IS RULER OF HOUSE

Race of Modern Amazons Found by Explorers

STRANGE LAND OF TO-RUNS

Female is Emancipated to the Point of Domination

By MILTON MACKAYE

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — American explorers have found a race of modern Amazons — a people where the woman is a head of the family and ruler of the house.

They are the To-Runs, a tribe of Mongol descent which inhabits that little-known part of western China where are found the headwaters of the Yellow River, "the stream of gold."

Reports of two explorers sent to the region testify to the truth of the stories, brought out of Asia. The explorers are Frederick R. Wislizenus, leader of an expedition sent by the National Geographic Society, and the late William Woodville Rockhill, who left a record of the tribe to the Smithsonian Institution.

The customs of the To-Runs prove that woman's invasion of industry, her determination to live her own life, is not a development of modern civilization. For among these primitive people the weaker sex is emancipated to the point of domination of the male.

The To-Runs live in a strip of wooded and hill country and are an agricultural and nomadic people. Their houses are made of timber and mud and their industries are simple and few. They make their own clothes and the embroidered shoes they wear. Both women and men smoke a herb resembling tobacco. The tribe has its own language, but it is not written, and must be learned before it is sources can be determined.

WITNESS OF MANY RACES

Geographers believe the To-Runs and associated tribes have been lost in the heart of Asia for centuries and are a curious mingling of many races. By the characteristics of the people, they are convinced that the Yellow River region was one of the racial battlegrounds of the early Asiatic migration.

Wislizenus found the To-Runs after establishing a headquarters more than 600 miles from a railroad and a trip up the Yellow River on rafts of yak skins. They live north of the small Singing River.

Just how the women of the tribe gained their ascendancy, Wislizenus did not yet determine, but he and his associates believe that a further study of the tribal legends may solve the riddle.

He reports one astonishing female trait, however. The women pay no attention to increasing years, welcome in fact, the coming of old age.

Because they are not dependent upon personal and physical charms to maintain their hold upon the men of the tribe, they refuse to capricious to time, he says, and rather turn the years to their own advantage.

The diaries of Rockhill furnish even more light upon the strange Amazonian customs which prevail in the Yellow River country. Divorce and free love are common here, says Wislizenus, and some women refuse to marry at all. If they have sufficient property they may bring up as many children as result from passing attachments.

Rockhill contends this custom is a result of natural conditions in the To-Run section, agricultural land is scarce and few families can be raised. As a result polyandry is permitted and temporary marriages are common, whether they be for six months, six weeks or a day.

The offspring of these marriages is reared by anyone whom their mothers teach them to recognize as such. Other husbands are the "uncles" of the children. Family names are unknown and the child is often named after the son or daughter of such and such a woman.

The traditional domination of women, however, usually does not begin until after marriage. She is sold by her parents, but immediately upon entering the home of her husband she no longer is the slave, but the master. No buying or selling is done except by her, or with her consent. She takes charge of the rude family exchequer and all the affairs of the household.

THE ZIEGFELD FAMILY HOLDS ITS OWN LITTLE STAR REVUE

Flo Ziegfeld doesn't pass all of his time worrying over his famous Follies. Nor does Mrs. Ziegfeld (Billie Burke, you know) devote all of her attention to her new play, "Annabelle." Both frequently go to their estate at Tarrytown to witness the performances of their little daughter, Patricia. They present a charming family picture, don't they?

In some portions of the To-Run country, the hat-choosing festival, a sexual rite, is permitted as it is among many Moslem, Mongol, and Tibetan tribes.

During the two or three days that the ceremony continues, a man may carry off the hat of any girl or woman he meets in the temple grounds and she becomes, without further ado, his temporary wife.

Some of the customs of the To-Runs, the Rockhill diaries point out, are as barbaric in the extreme as many localities the remnants of the dead are exposed on the hill-sides in places selected by the priests. If the body is quickly eaten by beasts or birds of prey, it proves the righteousness of the deceased.

Crime is prevalent, and even the gravest offense is pardoned upon payment of a fixed sum.

Compressed bricks of tea, one of the articles of daily consumption, are used as a medium of exchange.

The highest price a tea is placed upon the life of a priest—sometimes as much as 200 bricks. The lowest value is placed on the life of a foreigner, which is sometimes set at two or three bricks.

The ascendancy of the female, however, remains the custom which interests American scientists the most, recalling as they do the Greek myths of the followers of Diana and the fabled Amazons of the Asia Minor country. They can't explain it, Dr. Rockhill said.

"By what means these women gained such a complete ascendancy, how they have made their mastery so complete to a race of lawless barbarians, who, but unwillingly submit to the authority of their chief, is a problem well worth considering."

But the findings in the To-Run country do prove one thing—that Miss Bloomer, predecessor of the bicycle girl of the nineties and pioneer in the modern revolt, wasn't such an advanced and shocking person as our father once believed.

RAIL SERVICE IS INCREASED

Chicago River is Used by Erie System

Greater service for Lima ship-owners who route merchandise to Chicago over the Erie railroad has been announced by the railroad. Barge service whereby freight cars are taken into the manufacturing district of Chicago by means of the Chicago River has been greatly increased.

Chicago is dependent on tunnel cars for the distribution of freight through the city. These little cars run in tunnels under the street level and connect all principal freight stations and the big shippers of the city.

Under the old plan the Erie was forced to take freight to its established station, unload it and then reload it into tunnel cars for transmission to the distributing station in northern Chicago.

Now the cars carrying goods for this station are shunted on barges and hauled up the river to the Webster-station where they are unloaded for the first time and their contents distributed by tunnel car and by truck.

Savings of from one to three days have been accomplished.

The Erie is the first railroad to use the south branch of the river and according to reports have been successful. Recently the barge service was doubled, eight now being used on the river.

These barges also operate between the Eighteenth-st. station and the Erie-st. station and the North Pier Terminal as well as the Webster-st. station.

Says Piles Heal Up and Disappear Forever

Seldom Falls to Give Absolute Relief from All Pain and Suffering. Guaranteed by Hunter's Drug Stores, Green's Drug Stores and All Good Druggists.

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained. MOAVA is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and any sufferer from Piles or Hemorrhoids who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

FLIGHT HALTED BY ACCIDENT

U. S. Planes on World Trip Damaged in Hop off

PROLONGS STAY IN ICELAND

Italian Aviator to Join Yanks on Journey

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — (By Associated Press) — The American army world fliers will be unable to leave Iceland for Greenland for at least three days more, owing to damage suffered by both planes in an attempted start.

Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith and Erik Nelson, the pilots, with their mechanics, Lieutenants Lester Arnold and John Harding Jr., rose early yesterday, enthused by the prospect of being off once more after the tedious wait here for favorable weather conditions and the establishment of a suitable landing place on the Greenland coast.

Their machines were heavily loaded with fuel for the hop of more than 800 miles to Frederiksdale, and it was this extra weight that caused the trouble, as the planes refused to lift from the runway. Repeated efforts to get off were in vain and the strain caused the spreader bar on Lieutenant Smith's plane to break while the propeller of the other machine was shattered.

Repairs await the arrival here of the cruiser Richmond, which had put to sea in anticipation of the flight. It is not expected to reach port before tomorrow.

Lieutenant Locatelli, the Italian aviator who arrived here Sunday is still uncertain whether to join the Americans on their hop to Greenland or to remain here from ten to fifteen days longer for the purpose of taking motion pictures. He expects to leave Reykjavik from Reolin Hornafjord, the Italian pilot and his companions took some movies from the air said to be the first ever taken in Iceland.

If successful in crossing the Atlantic it is understood Locatelli is continuing on to South America.

TO ACCOMPANY YANKS

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — (By Associated Press) — Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian aviator who has flown here from Asia, intending to fly across the Atlantic in the wake of the American round-the-world fliers, will accept Flight Commander Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith's invitation to accompany the Americans.

Locatelli probably will finish his preparations for continuing the flight on Wednesday. Should arrangements for his accompanying Lieutenant Smith and his crew, Erick Nelson fail to be carried out, the Italian will hire a steam trawler to transport his gasoline and supplies to Greenland and proceed without the assistance of the American warships on patrol between Iceland and the east coast of Greenland.

PLANE WRECKED

HANOI, French Indo China — (By Associated Press) — Major Pedro Zanni, Argentine round-the-world flier, met with an accident while taking off for Canton today when his machine overturned. The flier escaped uninjured but his plane was put out of commission.

APPEAL MADE

OTTAWA — Appeal has been made in common pleas court of the peace of Riley in the case of Dale Crawford against C. S. Bittner, of Painesville, Ohio, sought to collect $40 alleged to be due on a note given him for hay purchased by Shawyer. Shawyer had paid more than $40 on the note but refused the remainder, because he charged the hay was not merchantable. A jury in Justice McKenna's court awarded Crawford judgment for the full amount of $40. Shawyer appealed the case.

HOSPITAL FUND ATTACKED

Estate Division is Fought by Sons of Donor

OTTAWA — A large bequest by Joseph Harris, of Gilboa, to Ottawa for a public hospital, in case the city would meet the fund with a like amount, is at stake in the action to set aside the will of Harris filed Tuesday in common pleas court.

The suit was brought by Reece A. Harris of Gilboa and Ray J. Harris, of Findlay, sons of Joseph Harris. To each of them, in his will, he left $5,000.

The village of Ottawa, Mrs. Dena Grose, of Findlay, the Methodist Protestant and the Methodist Episcopal churches of Gilboa and W. C. Winemans, as executors of the estate, are made defendants in the case.

The sons in the action charge that Harris was physically ill for a long time and say he was mentally incapable of making a will. Charges also are made that he was unduly influenced and coerced, and that the document filed in court, is not the last will.

Harris in the will gave Mrs. Dena Grose, of Findlay, $5,000. She is said to be a former sweetheart.

The sum of $500 was given to the Methodist Protestant and the Methodist Episcopal churches of Gilboa.

All the residue of the property in the village of Ottawa failed to take advantage of the offer for a hospital was to pass to Mrs. Grose. The time in which the will of Harris was given to act upon the proposition was one year.

An inventory of Harris' estate showed that it amounted to $15,000. He died at the home of Elinor C. McClure, of Ottawa, where he made his residence. A suit is pending against the estate filed by McClure, seeking more than $500 for care of Harris in his last illness. The will was made in 1920.

BILOXI, Miss.—(Special)—Her eighth husband!
After having her hair bobbed and all "frizzed" up Miss. Mary Saunders, 74, became the wife of A. J. Fuller, 96, at the Jefferson Davis Confederate Soldiers' Home.
It was a gala day at the home. The wedding was solemnized under the beautiful oak trees on the lawn, of the home. 36 Fuller's army buddies looked on. At the wedding the couple journeyed to a photographer so their many grandchildren could have a picture of the event.
The groom with pride exclaims that he is still an "18-year-old" and he tilts his corncob pipe at a wicked stink when he talks. "I have been smoking for 38 years," he proudly boasts. "I really smoke too. Use a whole pack of tobacco a day."
Mrs. Fuller is content to let her new husband talk for the family, but says long life is best attainable thru the old tradition: "Early to bed and early to rise."

Miller Honored

Lehr E. Miller, chairman of the Democratic executive committee for the last several years, has been re-elected by the committee. He will act as generalissimo of the Democratic forces in the coming campaign in Allen-co and if he does his work as well as in the past, his party will have an increased representation in county offices after the November election.

His re-election as head of the county committee Saturday made two distinct honors for Miller within a week. He swept thru the Fourth congressional district like wildfire at the primary, being named state central committeeman over two opponents. He carried every county in the district, attesting to his popularity which is the result of long party service and square dealing.

The party in Allen-co is fortunate in having a man with the untiring interest Miller has always shown. He has performed valuable service and is deserving of the honor bestowed upon him. With him at the helm, Democracy has a bright outlook in Allen-co for the coming election.

Lurking Death

Are you careful enough when you cross the railroad tracks? Last year there were 2,268 fatal accidents and 6,314 injuries at railroad highway crossings, totaling the whole United States.

There are thousands of such crossings. To eliminate them all, the railroads claim, would require years of constant work and an expenditure staggering to the imagination.

Nevertheless, the elimination is taking place entirely too slowly. Every community has its grade crossings which stand out as extremely dangerous. A relative few crossings, out of many, after all, are the real menace. The trouble is, it usually takes years of fighting and a heavy death toll to make the danger glaring before these most fatal of crossings are done away with.

Economy is no excuse. A railroad is never so hard up that it can afford to save money at the expense of human life.

Meantime, it would be a good thing for motorists and jaywalkers to keep in mind that the train doesn't leave the track to hit them. Stop and look both ways before crossing. Checkups show that more than half of auto drivers cross the tracks without making any observation whatever to see if trains are approaching.

The Mirror

Conditions are never any better nor any worse than the average of the public. Economic, moral, ethical, religious and political institutions and conditions are mirrors reflecting the majority of the public.

The poor, for instance, hate the rich and condemn the system that permits a few to have the lion's share of the world's wealth. This is true in our generation. It has always been true—since the most physically powerful prehistoric man made the weak pay tribute to him.

A newspaper is a mirror of its readers. The man who reads a conservative paper is a conservative at heart. The man who devours radical publications is a dyed-in-the-wool radical—whether he has the courage of his convictions or not.

You can discover the character, emotional balance and mental state of a man or woman by observing what they read. You will also discover their suppressed functions—as when a weanling reads a physical culture magazine or a timid man submerges himself in virile stories of the great open spaces. Suppressed function is the thing we yearn for without power to obtain it.

Graft on a big scale is a mirror reflecting petty dishonesty among the public. Dishonesty is not just a matter of theft; it exists wherever a man fails to give a fair return for what he gets, either in commodities or service.

The merchant reading his scales a bit in his favor is the genesis of graft by some large corporations. The consumer who snatches a ripe plum when the grocer isn't watching, or who fails to pay his fare when the conductor overlooks him, is a contributor to the system of big plunder.

In politics, too. Government is just as good or just as bad as the average of the people governed. When public ethics are lax, watch for graft in high places. When—as in the last presidential election—nearly half of the eligible voters fail to go to the polls, it reveals an indifference as to whether government is honest or crooked.

The people are the tree; conspicuous conditions, the fruit.

Diamonds

Nearly every woman owns at least one diamond. And yet if you gathered together all the diamonds in the world, you'd have only 42 tons. Three-fourths of these have come from the South African mines within the last 40 years.

If German chemists, now apparently on the right track, finally discover how to turn mercury or lead into gold cheaply, it is not improbable that diamonds will become the basis of money systems. Man has centuries of evolution ahead before he will base his money on a sensible, scientific medium such as units of human energy.

Nature's Way

Our distant relative, the gorilla, is in danger of extinction. Jungle explorers say there's only one big herd of these hairy monsters left, numbering not more than 100.

Why worry about it? They wouldn't be vanishing if such weren't nature's plan. Like the buffalo and passenger pigeon and dinosaur, the gorilla had his function in creations. That function is unknown, but apparently it's no longer needed. Nature destroys the unnecessary as ruthlessly as she strikes down those who fail to do as she intended.

Forced Out

Another interurban electric railway is forced out of business by motor trucks and autos. This time it's the Aurora, Plainfield and Joliet line, in Illinois. Its officials said the road could no longer operate in competition with "gasoline buggies" except at a loss.

The interurban business has had a hard row to hoe. It started out with high hopes and much public enthusiasm, to bridge the inadequacies of steam railroad service. The auto crowded it too fast. An exceptional situation in the history of American industry.

Perhaps fat men make the best salesmen because they have the bulge on the slender salesmen.

INTERMARRIAGE

An interesting and enlightening study of the effects of intermarriage or interbreeding thru four generations has been reported by Dr. Douglas P. Murphy, of Ithaca, N. C. It is commonly believed that the marriage of first cousins results in mental deficiency, physical abnormality, or weak vitality in the offspring, although medical authorities, and students of eugenics maintain that the only injury from such interbreeding is due to the inheritance received and is not attributable to consanguinity. That is, any defect in the offspring is independent of the mixing of bloods, but if there is some family taint of a heritable nature of course the chances of inheritance are doubled by a marriage of first cousins.

Dr. Murphy has traced the history of a family from the first known ancestor who came to Pennsylvania from Germany in 1731. He died in Pennsylvania leaving 21 children. One of the children migrated to North Carolina, and his descendants have lived there ever since. All members that lived to adult age married and had many children. Nearly all had little education, averaging a few months of school during three or four winters. They have remained farmers mostly, their social and economic condition remaining about the same throughout the four generations.

In this family there were seven cases of marriage of first cousins. The second couple were double first cousins.

There is no record of any physical abnormality in the family history of this clan. There was one case of slightly impaired mentality in the third generation, but that was not attributed to consanguinity, for the following generations were normal.

One observation, Dr. Murphy makes is that the death rate in this family is considerably higher than the death rate in the other families in the same community, which he believes is suggestive of impaired vitality.

Another observation is that the infant death rate is higher than the average for the community. The death rate is considerably higher, Dr. Murphy points out, when the inbreeding is most marked.

From this remarkable study Dr. Murphy concludes that intermarriage is a cause of decided increase in infant mortality, but that the marriage of cousins does not lead to mental or physical defect in the offspring.

Even so, it is probably better to mate outside of the family, for the best blood is improved by new blood. Such a study as Dr. Murphy's thoroughly disposes of the superstitions regarding the marriage of cousins, but it does not bring

Be cheerful, willing, glad to learn! Count not your steps nor every turn The hands upon the clock shall make; Remember, 'tis your life's at stake! As you are now, so they shall see The man that you are going to be.

NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath
Copyright 1924 by NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

The "Nervous Wreck" is driving Sally McSwain, who is a young girl, to the point of insanity. She is a nervous wreck because of the fact that she is in love with a boy who is a nervous wreck. The story is a comedy of errors and misunderstandings. Sally is a young girl who is in love with a boy named Bob. Bob is a nervous wreck because he is in love with a girl named Sally. Sally is a nervous wreck because she is in love with a boy who is a nervous wreck. The story is a comedy of errors and misunderstandings. Sally is a young girl who is in love with a boy named Bob. Bob is a nervous wreck because he is in love with a girl named Sally. Sally is a nervous wreck because she is in love with a boy who is a nervous wreck. The story is a comedy of errors and misunderstandings.

YOU GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"Haven't an idea. Not long, I guess, unless he's loafing on his job."

"Oh, Bob never loafs. He's too active. He's a real sheriff."

The Wreck was tired of hearing the sheriff's virtues related, but he side-stepped an argument on the point.

"Well, what are you going to do?" he asked. "Go out in the hills and hide."

"No. We can't do that. But do we dare go up to the house?"

"I've got it, who gets the supper?"

"Oh, I suppose we do," she said wearily. "But if Bob should happen to walk into the kitchen—" she finished it with a gesture.

"He won't. He's busy with Underwood. Got to take a chance, anyway."

"Yes, we've got to."

They walked briskly to the house, praying that the sheriff would stay somewhere around the front until they reached the kitchen. Sally did not breathe comfortably until she made certain that the kitchen was empty. The Wreck moved over to the pantry door and bolted it.

"Only one door to watch now," he said.

He bolted it. Henry. Suppose he comes in the other way? I'm going thru that pantry in one jump. And vice versa, if he comes in from the pantry. I'm not going to be bottled up."

He unbolted the door and Sally went nervously about the work of getting supper.

"You'd better be careful there's nobody in the living-room when you get the table," she warned him. "Take a good look first."

It happened there was nobody in the living-room. As nearly as the Wreck could judge, the sheriff and Mr. Underwood were sitting out front. Every minute or so Sally went to a window that commanded a view of the corral to see whether the black horse was still there. It always was. He was overrunning the first day, and in place of it was growing an angry.

The old unreasoning resentment against Bob Wells was returning. It made no difference if he did not know who he was pursuing, from the standpoint of Sally it was no less unpleasant. Now was she any too certain that he would abandon the chase if he knew for he was conspicuous to the leaning-backward point—a regular bulldog. He had a habit of talking about enforcing the law impartially against all evildoers; he even boasted about it. She remembered when it seemed to sound very well; but that was before she had a posse on her trail. She wondered how far Bob Wells would really go, if he learned the truth. She was none too sure.

When Charley McSwain came to the door at the sound of his step and a fork clattered on the floor.

"That's company," said Charley. "And it happens we've got company, ma'am. The sheriff of the township and God-fearing county has dropped in to get a little more information about these desperadoes that he's exterminating. I just used in to tell you he's staying in upper. See another plate in the dining room Henry. He's going to eat with the family."

"One more doesn't make any difference," said Sally, with an effort at lightness.

"It does with the sheriff. I've seen him work. He's a powerful officer, too. He's been working up real good appetite, talking to Mr. Underwood. It seems he's aiming to do great things in the line of law. He's been telling quite a lot about some of the things he's already done and the samples he's got a posse on the road a piece, waiting for developments. Tomorrow, as near as I can make out, they're going to raise hell among the wicked."

Sally winced inwardly. Charley was putting things in his own words, of course; but somehow it sounded strangely as if Bob Wells was talking.

"So you'd best get plenty, ma'am," concluded Charley, for he has talked himself empty."

All of this brought a grin to the face of the Wreck, which he served, but did not dare resent. As Charley went out, her mind was with another thought.

"If he stays for supper, that means you can't wait on the table, Henry."

"I'm not kidding."

"Maybe not. But who's going to make your place? I can't. I should say not. I guess we'll get one of the boys."

Sally shook her head. She knew her own mind.

"Timothy!" said the Wreck suddenly.

"But I wonder if he will," she said.

"He will, don't worry."

"Have you been fighting with Timothy?" she asked him suddenly.

"Lord no! Timothy won't fight me. But he'll wait on the table. He knows that something had knew that Bob was not likely to get up from the table so long as there was anything more to be served. Eating, to him, was a pleasurable job of stoking, as she had learned from plenty of experience at the Bar-M. He was even slightly vain of his achievements as a trencherman; Charley had been entirely right about it. So she kept Timothy busy between kitchen and dining room, carrying things that made him so hungry to look at that he could scarcely wait for his own turn.

In fact, he did not wait, for on one of his trips back to the kitchen Sally observed that he was munching something. He brazenly admitted that he had been "stealing" a biscuit or two.

"They look so good, ma'am," he said with an apologetic smile. And I'm pretty empty. Besides that, it gets on your nerves to hear 'em boosting the food when all you're supposed to do is carry it round."

Of course she could not be angry. "Who is boosting it?" she asked.

"The boss and the sheriff are both doing it," said Timothy. "But you've got to admit they make good everything they say, by the way they lick into it."

It did not surprise her to hear that Bob Wells was enjoying himself. What a joke it was! If he only knew! It was some satisfaction to know that you were doing a good job, even if you were conscripted.

Timothy kept her informed of the progress of the supper, and also made a report of the conversation.

"It turns out," he said, "that other parties beside us have been getting held up. The county gets awful wild when you're this far from New York."

"I have not been surprised," said Mr. George Arbaugh, a well known Lima contractor and builder, living at 758 S. Metcalf Street, at the verdict rendered by hundreds of Lima citizens in favor of Peppen, this famous herbal medicine sold at The Hunter Drug Stores.

In the mornings when I felt worse, my tea S. Metcalf and I would be so stiff and sore I could hardly get out of bed. Often I felt too bad to eat a bite of breakfast."

"Then I started taking this Peppen, and it did me good right from the start. It has just been a Godsend to me, for now I am in good health again after I had given up hope of every being strong and well again. If anyone is worn out like I was they ought to start taking Peppen right away."

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innocent Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM RUTH BURKE TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

I'm going to commence this letter, dearest, with that old bromide "I'm the happiest woman in all the world." I expect Walter would make the same assertion, only putting man in place of woman, if you should ask him the question.

It doesn't seem possible to me, dear, that I can live in this particularly rarified atmosphere all the remainder of my life, but Walter is so perfect. Every minute since we have been married he seems to have thought of no one or nothing but me. He wants to load me down with jewels, and yesterday proposed a string of pearls. You will smile, Leslie, when I tell you that I refused them, and instead he gave me a diamond and platinum chain that is perfectly gorgeous.

It seems strange to me, Leslie, that I, Ruth Ellington Burke, will in the future have no cause to worry about the necessities or the luxuries of life—I, who have always had to struggle so hard to make both ends meet. You know when I was married to Harry, although he had plenty of money at times and was extremely poor at others, he was always the one who had to economize. One hour after Walter and I were married he gave me a bank book in which I found $25,000 had been placed to my account.

I'm sending you today a string of lovely old amber beads. I know how extravagantly you admired the ones we saw at that are shop in Albany. These, I think, are much more beautiful.

You know, dear, I had a little sentiment about sending to you something which was paid for out of my new bank account. I want you to know how I appreciate all your sweetness and kindness to me, how you speed up for me even when Jack insisted that you should turn me down. I'll never forget it, Leslie, never. I am glad, indeed, that I have known you and loved you. You have renewed my faith in my own sex. I know now that women are good friends, and most wicked when I array myself in dainty chiffons and gorgeous velvets, knowing how hard it is for most women to get along with not enough clothes to keep them warm.

I wouldn't tell this to Walter for the world, for you should see his eyes light up when I appear before him in an entirely new costume. At least I am making him happy, and I pray God that I can always make him happy, for I am going to end this letter just as I began it—I am the happiest woman in all the world.

RUTH BURKE.

BURNS' BINGLE WINS FOR CINCINNATI IN SEVENTEENTH

English Army Officers Arrive For International Match Against America's Best Five

REDS WIN OVERTIME CONTEST FROM GIANTS

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—In the important games which are now shaping the end of the major league baseball season, pitchers are playing the hero roles usually seized by sluggers.

While Babe Ruth, whose mighty bat carried the world's champions thru earlier scenes, rests for the moment, the once celebrated staff of Yankee twirlers is taking full advantage of an opportunity to pull away from Detroit and Washington as the two consistent challengers claw each other.

The Yankees, as veteran Joe Bush held Chicago to four hits bunched four of their five safeties off Robertson and Connelly for a 2 to 0 victory that gave them a two and one-half game lead over Detroit which lost to Washington, 6 to 3 and dropped to within one-half contest of the Senators. Hub Leonard, pitching his first game in organized baseball since 1922, was knocked from the box.

GIANTS AND PIRATES CLOSE
Tom Sheehan and Burtel Grimes corralled major honors in losses suffered by the Giants and Pirates, contenders for the lead in the National. New York, in the longest game played in the majors this year lost to the Reds in 17 innings, 8 to 7.

Sheehan after yielding Maye in the second went the route for Cincinnati and scored the tying run in the final frame after two were out. The Reds, six runs behind in the seventh, pounded Dean and Neft for the tying scores in that inning and the ninth. Neither side scored again until the seventeenth when the Giants scored once and the Reds twice.

Grimes checked the nine game winning streak of the Pirates and made four hits in the 7 to 4 Brooklyn victory.

Joe Aldridge held Boston safe while the Cubs pounded Yergin for a six to one win. Clevelander coasted in with a 13 to 3 decision over four Athletic pitchers who yielded 16 hits to Cleveland.

Wladimir, promising Brown southpaw, held the Red Sox scoreless and to four hits in eight innings but was overcome in the ninth by an avalanche of hits that earned a 3 to 2 victory for Boston. A home run by Cy Williams with the 5 to 4 Phillys won over the Cards, who Sherdel allowed only seven hits.

Pros, 'Ams And Sich
If you feel that you just must go to the bow-bow, now is the fashionable time to do it.

No nervous wreck can get any consolation out of the knowledge that a soprano-singing hound never plays his teeth in your ribs here.

If she says "Love me, love my dog," don't start to flee. The dog may misinterpret your intention.

A dog has a lot of fine traits that a man might well adopt. But growing isn't one of them.

Don't come home after a long day at the office and blurt out "It's a dog's life." Even the little woman must get tired hearing you brag.

Turn about is noble sport. Take the scoots riding in your limousine and the cans to the tails of the aristocratic chows.

Mr. O'Goofy understands that the canine family is very fond of bones. "Well, I've got a new pair and I'll fade the lads for any amount."

Quit complaining about your puppies. If they hurt, get a larger size.

Be charitable to your remarks to hot dogs. Who knows but some day you may have a bun on too.

No watch dog will ever be really valuable until he learns the difference between your bootlegger and the guy that reads the gas meter.

Fashion Note: For dog days, stump-speaking politicians will wear non-removable steel muzzles and oblige the country at large.

ON LOCAL COURTS
Game has been scheduled Thursday evening at Fawcett park between the Elida All Stars and the Catalpa Indians, winners of the Park Twilight league, the manager of the Indians announced.

The Elida team has a strong outfit this year and will come here with the idea in mind to win the Catalpas as they did at last year.

The contest will probably be held at 8:30 and will be a full evening affair unless darkness intervenes.

EPINARD TAKES STEPS 25 FEET LONG

25. FT. STRIDE

SARATOGA SPRINGS N. Y.—One reason why American turfmen are beginning to fear Epinard, the visiting 11 f champion of France, is that he has the longest stride of any known thoroughbred.

Actual measurements have shown that Epinard's stride is a fraction better than 25 feet. No other great runner known to the turf can show a stride to match this.

Epinaud's present stride is better even than was Man o' War's when the great American horse was running at the top of his brilliant form.

Horsemen say that Man o' War's maximum stride was 24 feet 9 inches. These were his figures when he broke all time records in winning the Lawrence Realization States several years ago.

Epinaud is one of the longest horses for his height ever to be seen in action in this country. In this respect he is the freak of the turf.

Nevertheless Epinaud is capable of great speed and his abnormally long strikes enable him to cover plenty of ground with each bound.

AS A MATTER OF FACT
Being a Criticism of the Just and the Unjust in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports
BY HANCOCK GARDNER

Thru the victory of Leman Baker over Dr. Gardner, in three straight sets Saturday at the Northwestern Ohio tennis tournament, Lima gets a place on the tennis map.

Dr. Gardner is one of the outstanding players of this part of the country and was champion of Toledo last year. The victory carries Baker into the semi-final sets which will be played off next Friday, and it is hoped that his fine playing will carry him thru to the finals to be played off Saturday.

There is a whole lot of inspiration to be gotten from leaders in the game like Baker, and the result is sure to be a PENCE GETS A DRAW an added impetus toward further efforts of players who are trying at top speed but if modified beneficial results will ensue.

He was matched against Ellingwood a Fort Wayne boxer. The referee decided the match a draw, although it was the consensus of opinion that Ellingwood showed superior qualities.

They are both young in the game, however, and will undoubtedly improve as they get into match. The Ellingwood boys are all hoovers. There are three brothers the younger a fivefight who has been boxing some very interesting hours in this part of the country, another that gives a good account of himself in the junior lightweight class, and this one who fought Pence in the 150 pound class. So many real fighters in one family is rare.

PENCE GETS A DRAW
Because of Lima losing to New Bremen Sunday and Angola and Bryan winning the league race is getting very close and the combined efforts of the local ball tossers to keep in front. It would seem from consistent winning that Angola is the most to be feared. Bryan got a first start mainly thru the winning pitching of Kimp, who went to the Yankees and then thru some definite rule of that organization, left them and started in with the semipro in and around Columbus.

But there is no use denying the fact that Angola has a fast team. It is true that they are not such hitters, but they have the knack of getting the most out of all the hits they do make. They know how to play the game and besides they have been blessed with winning pitching. It is doubtful if there is any other team in the league that is stronger in the box than Angola.

It is quite possible that Angola and Lima will arrange a post season series comprising five games to take place after the schedule has been played, regardless of which was the pennant and the "Golding" cup. It is not always the best team that wins a pennant. This fact is reminding of the Pittsburgh and New York team. No one would hardly be bold enough to say that the Giants are a better team than the Pirates, if he has followed the work of these two teams in the past few weeks, yet the Giants will probably win it. It would indeed be an interesting series between Angola and Lima.

Another project that may come to pass is a series between the champions of the Ohio-Indiana league and the Southern Ohio champions. There are negotiators now on foot that might bring this plan to a definite conclusion. Aside from this Manager Hyloran is in correspondence with some of the major league teams for exhibition games in Lima in the late fall. If looks as the devotees of the national pastime will have occasion to see the very best grade of baseball before the snow flies.

SWEETSER HARD TO BEAT
BY JOE WILLIAMS
One of the early and likewise heavy favorites to win the National Amateur at Philadelphia next month is Jess Sweetser of the Metropolitan district. Sweetser won the championship at Brookline in 1922 and came within the turn of a putt of winning again last year at Flossmoor. Max Marston blocked him off at the thirty-eighth hole, aided by a storm, which blocked the Yale man's approach to the hole.

Sweetser's record in winning the title one year and finishing a spectacular runner-up the next, stamps him as one of the best match play golfers among the amateurs. Naturally he will be a feared man this year and, if he happens to be playing the shots up to his usual form, it will take golf of high order to stop him.

Sweetser has been beaten but once in the National in two years. On the other hand, his victims have included Chick Evans, Jesse Guilford (twice), Bobby Jones, Bob Gardner and Willie Hunter. There aren't many notables in the game who haven't fallen before his attack.

Sweetser is only 22 years old and has many years of stardom ahead. He has the build and the temperament for match play, and a set of nerves that remain firm and untrifled in the thick of battle. There is nothing about Sweetser's game to indicate he will crack suddenly or drift back among the second-raters. He uses a short, compact swing with no tricky wrist maneuvers to lead him astray. He gets all the distance he needs and is seldom off the line.

Like many of the leaders of the game, Sweetser uses a closed stance with the left of the greens, with a tendency to cut his putts. An uncertain stroke of the greens, with a tendency to cut his putts. But even this is not serious and at Brookline and at Flossmoor he was getting down most of the time in the customary number of two.

BRITISH POLO TEAM NOT AT ALL BOASTFUL

NEW YORK—(United Press)—America's polo team which is to defend the international cup against the British team at Meadowbrook next month, probably will be picked after the final test match today.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that the Americans will line up in the first match with Watson Webb at Number 1; Tommy Hitchcock at Number 2; Malcolm Stevenson at Number 3; and Devereux Milburn, greatest of them all, in the back position.

Eric Pedley, the young Californian, is making a gallant fight and he would have a good chance to displace Webb if he had a little more experience.

The visitors, who are all army officers with one exception, are anything but boastful. In fact they say they have a very slight chance to win because Lacey and Kirkwood, two of their best players are not in good physical condition. They were injured recently in London.

The feeling among the English as expressed in London, is that the attempt to win back the cup lost in 1921 is just a manifestation of friendship and good sportsmanship. They feel that their mounts are inferior and that they haven't had the experience of the veteran American players.

With the exception of Kirkwood and Phip

Admittedly

—the home owner and home buyer make the best customers for most classes of advertisers.

In Lima

—it's this class of folks who are consistent readers of "THE LIMA NEWS." They buy their homes and other property through The Lima News and they buy home necessities and comforts advertised therein.

In Lima there are over 11,000 separate homes. Of this great number, over 40% are owned by the families that reside in them.

Thus a large portion of Lima's population of workers have a pride of possession which is justified by the fact that, structure for structure, homes in Lima surpass those of other cities.

Belief in home life in Lima is inherent. In the "City of homes" the family circle holds thousands of individuals who value highly the things that add to the comforts, the convenience and the enjoyment of life.

To dealers who merchandise articles that make home life more attractive—furniture, carpets, musical instruments and scores of other things, Lima has always held out big openings for profitable business.

This Prescription For Kidneys

No Drugs—Just Plants and Herbs
6 Cans 60c, 75c

Years ago Dr. Carey said "When backache comes get your kidneys—add don't wait any time."
"Right at the start, go to the druggist and ask for Dr. Carey's Marabout Prescription No. 777. Take it as directed until backache ceases and your eyes are clear and bright!"

For more than 40 years Dr. Carey's Marabout Prescription No. 777, a kidney medicine, has been the most reliable remedy for kidney trouble. It is a natural product of the earth, and it is the only kidney medicine that has been tested by the most scientific methods. "Tison is Going to Die," They Declared; Plant Juice Ends Awful Stomach Trouble

FEELING FINE ONCE AGAIN
"I was so bad off that everybody was saying, 'Tison is going to die,' but since I have taken your Plant Juice my health troubles are gone and I would not take $10,000 in cash for the relief I got from your medicine."

declared Mr. Anderson Tison, of Jacobs addition, Louisville, Ky., during a recent conversation with the Plant Juice Man. Mr. Tison is a well known railway employee, having been with the L. & N. Railway Co., for the last 15 years. Continuing, he said: "I had suffered from the worst kind of stomach trouble for 30 years. Nothing I ate would agree with me. My nerves were affected and I couldn't sleep right and got up mornings feeling miserable so that I dreaded to go to work. I sometimes had nervous spells when my whole body would shake. I finally became so weak and discouraged that I was about ready to give up for I had gone down to 130 pounds and everybody was saying I was going to die."
"Then I found Plant Juice and started taking it and the first dose I took seemed to go all through me. I continued to take Plant Juice and now my appetite is back, I eat three big meals every day and never have a bit of pain or distress from indigestion. My bowels are regular now and my nerves are quieted so that I sleep as soundly as a log and wake up mornings feeling like a young colt. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to the shop ready for my day's work and every morning when I go to the shop I feel thankful to Plant Juice because I am convinced that it kept me on the job."
Plant Juice is sold in Lima by the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets; and at the Argonne drug store, oppo. Post Office. adv.
